

HDTV Surprise

1. I surprised my family with this HDTV, which I wrapped and hung on our wall. What size HDTV could this be? How do you know?

2. HDTV's have a ratio of their height to width of 9 to 16. That means for every 9 inches of screen height the screen must be 16 inches wide. This ratio applies to the screen, not the screen's frame. With this screen ratio in mind, does it seem reasonable that there is an actual HDTV under the wrapping paper?
